PDF App Form Enhancements

March 6, 2021
for internal use only

PDF App Form enhancements make way for automatic data entry via BCOS

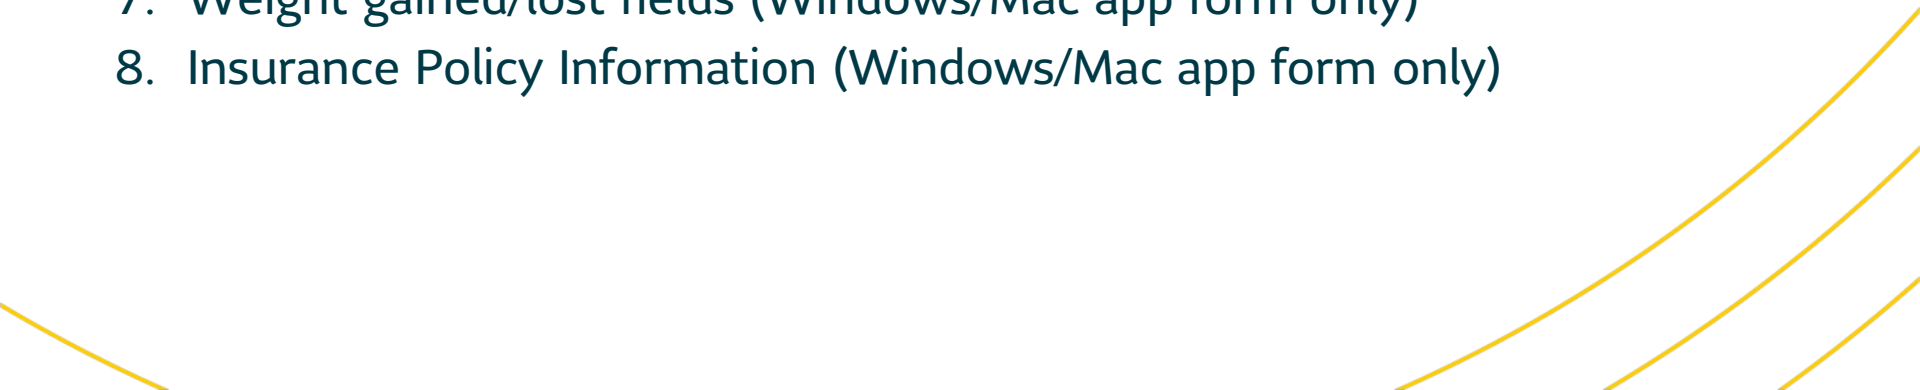

What this means: BCOS now supports auto encoding, which means the data you entered in PDF app forms don't have to be entered manually into Sun Life's systems.

What this means for clients: This is one step closer to a shorter approval time, since reviewers are freed up of the task of typing the data from the app form to the system. Once they download app documents from BCOS, they can immediately focus on review.

What this means for you: For the auto encoding to work, the app forms need to be as accurate and standardized as possible. The PDF app forms have been modified to help you minimize form errors and follow the expected system format for some fields.
